3. General Information on Data Processing

3.1 Scope of Processing Personal Data

We generally process our users' personal data only to the extent necessary for providing a functional website and our content and services. The processing of our users' personal data regularly only occurs with the user's consent. An exception applies in cases where obtaining prior consent is not possible for practical reasons and the processing of the data is permitted by law.

3.2 Legal Basis for Processing Personal Data

Where we obtain the data subject's consent for processing personal data, Article 6 Abs. 1 lit. a DSGVO serves as the legal basis for processing personal data.

When processing personal data that is necessary for the performance of a contract to which the data subject is a party, Article 6 Abs. 1 lit. b DSGVO serves as the legal basis. This also applies to processing operations that are necessary for carrying out pre-contractual measures.

Where processing personal data is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation to which our company is subject, Article 6 Abs. 6 lit. c DSGVO serves as the legal basis.

In the event that processing personal data is necessary to protect the vital interests of the data subject or of another natural person, Article 6 Abs. 1 lit. d DSGVO serves as the legal basis.

If processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by our company or by a third party, and the interests or fundamental rights and freedoms of the data subject do not override those interests, then Article 6 Abs. 1 lit. f DSGVO serves as the legal basis for the processing.

3.3 Data Deletion

The personal data of the data subject will be erased or blocked as soon as the purpose of storage no longer applies. Data may also be stored if this is provided for by European or national legislation in EU regulations, laws, or other provisions to which the controller is subject. Data will also be blocked or erased when a storage period prescribed by the aforementioned regulations expires, unless further storage of the data is necessary for the conclusion or performance of a contract.

4. Provision of the Website and Creation of Log Files

4.1 Description and Scope of Data Processing

4.3 Purpose of Data Processing

The temporary storage of the IP address by the system is necessary to enable the delivery of the website to the user's computer. For this purpose, the user's IP address must be stored for the duration of the session.

Storage in log files is carried out to ensure the functionality of the website. In addition, the data helps us to optimize the website and to ensure the security of our IT systems. The data is not used for marketing purposes in this context.

These purposes also constitute our legitimate interest in data processing pursuant to Article 6 Abs. 1 lit. f DSGVO.

7. Web Analytics using Google Analytics

7.1 Scope of Personal Data Processing

We use Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google LLC, 1600 Amphitheater Parkway, Mountain View, CA 94043, USA ("Google"), on our website. Google Analytics uses "cookies," which are text files placed on your computer, to help the website analyze how users use the site.

The information generated by the cookie about your use of the website will generally be transmitted to and stored by Google on servers in the United States. However, if IP anonymization is activated on this website, your IP address will be shortened by Google beforehand within member states of the European Union or in other contracting states to the Agreement on the European Economic Area. Only in exceptional cases will the full IP address be transmitted to a Google server in the USA and shortened there.

7.2 Legal basis for the processing of personal data

The legal basis for the processing of users' personal data is Article 6 Abs. 1 lit. a DSGVO and § 25 Abs. 1 TTDSG.

7.3 Purpose of Data Processing

On behalf of the operator of this website, Google will use this information to evaluate your use of the website, to compile reports on website activity, and to provide other services relating to website activity and internet usage to the website operator.

The IP address transmitted by your browser as part of Google Analytics will not be merged with other Google data.

7.4 Storage Period, Right to Object and Deletion

You can prevent the storage of cookies by adjusting your browser settings; however, please note that in this case, you may not be able to fully utilize all the functions of this website.

Furthermore, you can prevent Google from collecting and processing data generated by the cookie and related to your use of the website (including your IP address) by downloading and installing the browser plugin available at the following link: tools.google.com .

8. Use of Cookiebot

We use the consent management service Cookiebot, provided by Usercentrics A/S, Havnegade 39, 1058 Copenhagen, Denmark (Usercentrics). This allows us to obtain and manage the consent of website users for data processing. The processing is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation (Article 7 Abs. 1 DSGVO) to which we are subject (Article 6 Abs. 1 lit. c DSGVO). The following data is processed using cookies:

Your IP address (the last three digits are set to '0'). Date and time of consent. Browser information. URL from which the consent was sent. An anonymous, random, and encrypted key. Your consent status as the end user, as proof of consent.

The key and consent status are stored in the browser for 12 months using the "Cookie Consent" cookie. This ensures that your cookie preference is retained for subsequent page requests. The key allows your consent to be verified and tracked.

If you activate the "Bulk Consent" service feature to grant consent for multiple websites with a single end-user consent, the service will also store a separate, random, unique ID associated with your consent. If all of the following criteria are met, this key will be stored in encrypted form in the third-party "Cookie Consent Bulk Ticket" cookie in your browser: You activate the bulk consent feature in the service configuration. You allow third-party cookies via your browser settings.

You have disabled "Do Not Track" via your browser settings. You accept all or at least certain types of cookies when you grant consent.

The website's functionality cannot be guaranteed without this processing.

Usercentrics is the recipient of your personal data and acts as a data processor for us.

The processing takes place within the European Union. Further information on your rights to object to and have your data erased by Usercentrics can be found at:

<https://www.cookiebot.com/de/privacy-policy/>

Your personal data will be deleted continuously after 12 months or immediately after the termination of the contract between us and Usercentrics.

Please refer to our general information on deleting and disabling cookies within this privacy policy.

9. Integration of Vimeo Videos

We use videos from the provider Vimeo on our website. The provider is Vimeo Inc., 555 West 18th Street, New York, NY 10011, USA.

We have integrated Vimeo videos using the "Do Not Track" function (dnt=1). This setting prevents Vimeo from setting personal tracking cookies or evaluating user behavior for analysis and advertising purposes.

However, a connection to the Vimeo servers is established as soon as the preview image loads. Vimeo can then collect technical information such as the IP address, device information, and the URL of the visited page. If the user is logged into Vimeo, Vimeo can also recognize that a video on our website has been accessed.

The use of Vimeo only occurs with the user's consent (Article 6 Abs. 1 lit. a DSGVO, § 25 Abs. 1 TDDDG). You can withdraw your consent at any time via our consent management tool.

Vimeo may transfer personal data to the USA. Vimeo Inc. is certified under the EU-U.S. Data Privacy Framework (DPF), which ensures an adequate level of data protection for data transfers. Further information about the certification can be found here: Vimeo DPF Certification

Vimeo's privacy policy can be found at: <https://vimeo.com/privacy>

10. Use of Content Delivery Networks

We use a Content Delivery Network (CDN) on our website. A CDN helps us load our website quickly and smoothly, regardless of your location. In this process, your personal data is stored, managed, and processed on the servers of the CDN provider. Below, we provide a more general overview of the service and its data processing. Detailed information about how your data is handled can be found in the provider's privacy policy.

Every Content Delivery Network (CDN) is a network of regionally distributed servers, all connected via the internet. This network allows website content (especially very large files) to be delivered quickly and smoothly, even during peak loads. The CDN creates a copy of our website on its servers. Because these servers are distributed globally, the website can be delivered quickly. Consequently, the data transfer to your browser is significantly reduced by the CDN.

A fast-loading website is part of our service. We understand how frustrating it is when a website loads at a snail's pace. Often, people lose patience and leave before the website has even finished loading. Naturally, we want to avoid that. Therefore, a fast-loading website is an integral part of our website offering. Using a Content Delivery Network (CDN) significantly speeds up the loading of our website in your browser. The use of a CDN is particularly helpful if you are abroad, as the website is delivered from a server closer to you.

When you request a website or its content, and this content is cached in a CDN, the CDN forwards the request to the server nearest you, which then delivers the content. Content Delivery Networks are designed to allow the downloading of JavaScript libraries, which are hosted on npm and GitHub servers. Alternatively, most CDNs can also load WordPress plugins if they are hosted on their own servers. Your browser may send personal data to the Content Delivery Network we use. This includes data such as your IP address, browser type, browser version, the specific web page being loaded, and the date and time of your visit. This data is collected and stored by the CDN. Whether cookies are used for data storage depends on the network used. Please refer to the privacy policy of the respective service for details.

If you wish to completely prevent this data transfer, you can install a JavaScript blocker (see, for example, [link to JavaScript blocker]) on your computer. Of course, our website will then no longer be able to offer the usual level of service (such as fast loading speeds).

If you have consented to the use of a Content Delivery Network, the legal basis for the corresponding data processing is this consent. According to Article 6 Abs. 1 lit. a DSGVO (Consent), this consent constitutes the legal basis for the processing of personal data, such as that which may occur when collected by a Content Delivery Network.

We also have a legitimate interest in using a Content Delivery Network to optimize and enhance the security of our online service. The corresponding legal basis for this is Article 6 Abs. 1 lit. f DSGVO (Legitimate Interests). However, we only use the tool if you have given your consent.

11. Rights of the Data Subject

If your personal data is processed, you are a data subject within the meaning of the DSGVO and have the following rights against the controller:

11.1 Right of Access

You can request confirmation from the controller as to whether personal data concerning you is being processed by us.

If such processing is taking place, you can request the following information from the controller:

- the purposes for which the personal data is processed;
- the categories of personal data being processed;
- the recipients or categories of recipients to whom the personal data concerning you has been or will be disclosed;
- the planned duration for which the personal data concerning you will be stored, or, if specific information on this is not possible, the criteria used to determine that storage period;
- the existence of a right to rectification or erasure of personal data concerning you, a right to restriction of processing by the controller, or a right to object to such processing;
- the existence of a right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority;
- all available information about the source of the data if the personal data are not collected from the data subject;
- the existence of automated decision-making, including profiling, pursuant to Article 22 Abs. 1 and 4 DSGVO and – at least in those cases – meaningful information about the logic involved, as well as the significance and the envisaged consequences of such processing for the data subject.

You have the right to request information as to whether the personal data concerning you are transferred to a third country or to an international organization. In this context, you may request to be informed of the appropriate safeguards pursuant to Article 46 DSGVO relating to the transfer.

11.2 Right to rectification

You have the right to rectification and/or completion vis-à-vis the controller if the processed personal data concerning you are inaccurate or incomplete. The controller must carry out the rectification without undue delay.

11.3 Right to Restriction of Processing

Under the following conditions, you may request the restriction of processing of your personal data:

- if you contest the accuracy of your personal data for a period enabling the controller to verify its accuracy;
- the processing is unlawful and you oppose the erasure of the personal data and request the restriction of its use instead;
- the controller no longer needs the personal data for the purposes of the processing, but you require it for the establishment, exercise, or defense of legal claims; or
- if you have objected to processing pursuant to Article 21 Abs. 1 DSGVO pending the verification of whether the legitimate grounds of the controller override your grounds.

If the processing of your personal data has been restricted, this data may – apart from being stored – only be processed with your consent or for the establishment, exercise, or defense of legal claims, or for the protection of the rights of another natural or legal person, or for reasons of important public interest of the Union or of a Member State.

If the restriction of processing has been imposed under the aforementioned conditions, you will be informed by the controller before the restriction is lifted.

11.4 Right to Deletion

a) Obligation to Deletion

You have the right to request that the controller deletes your personal data without undue delay, and the controller is obligated to erase such data without undue delay where one of the following grounds applies:

- The personal data are no longer necessary in relation to the purposes for which they were collected or otherwise processed.
- You withdraw your consent on which the processing is based according to point (a) of Article 6 Abs. 1 lit. a Article 9 Abs. 2 lit. DSGVO, and there is no other legal ground for the processing.
- You object to the processing pursuant to Article 21 Abs. 1 DSGVO and there are no overriding legitimate grounds for the processing, or you object to the processing pursuant to Article 21 Abs. 2 DSGVO.
- The personal data have been unlawfully processed.
- The deletion of your personal data is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation under Union or Member State law to which the controller is subject.
- Your personal data was collected in relation to information society services offered pursuant to Article 8 Abs. 1 DSGVO.

b) Information to Third Parties

Where the controller has made your personal data public and is obliged pursuant to Article 17 Abs. 1 DSGVO to erase it, the controller, taking account of available technology and the cost of implementation, shall take reasonable steps, including technical measures, to inform controllers which are processing the personal data that you, as the data subject, have requested the erasure by such controllers of any links to, or copies or replications of, those personal data.

c) Exceptions

The right to erasure does not apply to the extent that processing is necessary:

- for exercising the right of freedom of expression and information;
- for compliance with a legal obligation to which the controller is subject under Union or Member State law, or for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller;

- for reasons of public interest in the area of public health in accordance with Article 9 Abs. 2 lit. h and i and Article 9 abs. 3 DSGVO;
- for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes, or statistical purposes in accordance with Article 89 Abs. 1 DSGVO, insofar as the right referred to in point (a) is likely to render impossible or seriously impair the achievement of the objectives of that processing;
- for the establishment, exercise, or defense of legal claims.

11.5 Right to Information

If you have asserted your right to rectification, erasure, or restriction of processing against the controller, the controller is obligated to inform all recipients to whom your personal data has been disclosed of this rectification, erasure, or restriction of processing, unless this proves impossible or involves disproportionate effort.

You have the right to be informed by the controller about these recipients.

11.6 Right to Data Portability

You have the right to receive the personal data concerning you, which you have provided to the controller, in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format. You also have the right to transmit this data to another controller without hindrance from the controller to whom the personal data was provided, where:

- the processing is based on consent pursuant to Article 6 Abs. 1 lit. a DSGVO or Article 9 Abs. 2 lit. a DSGVO or on a contract pursuant to Article 6 Abs. 1 lit. b DSGVO and
- the processing is carried out by automated means.

In exercising this right, you also have the right to have the personal data concerning you transmitted directly from one controller to another, where technically feasible. The rights and freedoms of other persons must not be adversely affected by this.

The right to data portability does not apply to the processing of personal data necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest or in the exercise of official authority vested in the controller.

11.7 Right to Object

You have the right to object, on grounds relating to your particular situation, at any time to processing of personal data concerning you which is based on Article 6 Abs. 1 lit. e or f DSGVO, including profiling based on those provisions.

The controller will no longer process the personal data concerning you unless the controller demonstrates compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms, or the processing serves the purpose of establishing, exercising or defending legal claims.

Where personal data concerning you are processed for direct marketing purposes, you have the right to object at any time to processing of personal data concerning you for such marketing, which includes profiling to the extent that it is related to such direct marketing.

If you object to processing for direct marketing purposes, the personal data concerning you will no longer be processed for such purposes.

You have the option, in connection with the use of information society services – notwithstanding Directive 2002/58/EC – to exercise your right to object by means of automated procedures using technical specifications.

11.8 Right to withdraw your consent to data processing

You have the right to withdraw your consent to data processing at any time. The withdrawal of consent does not affect the lawfulness of processing based on consent before its withdrawal.

11.9 Automated Individual Decision-Making, Including Profiling

You have the right not to be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which produces legal effects concerning you or similarly significantly affects you. This does not apply if the decision:

- is necessary for entering into, or performing, a contract between you and the controller,
- is authorized by Union or Member State law to which the controller is subject and which also lays down suitable measures to safeguard your rights and freedoms and legitimate interests, or
- is based on your explicit consent.

However, these decisions may not be based on special categories of personal data as defined in Article 9 Abs. 1 DSGVO, unless Article 9 Abs. 2 lit. a or g DSGVO applies and suitable measures to safeguard your rights and freedoms and legitimate interests are in place.

With regard to the cases referred to in (1) and (3), the controller shall implement suitable measures to safeguard the rights and freedoms and legitimate interests of the data subject, at least the right to obtain human intervention on the part of the controller, to express his or her point of view and to contest the decision.

11.10 Right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority

Without prejudice to any other administrative or judicial remedy, you have the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority, in particular in the Member State of your habitual residence, your place of work, or the place of the alleged infringement, if you consider that the processing of personal data relating to you infringes the DSGVO.

The supervisory authority with which the complaint has been lodged shall inform the complainant of the progress and the outcome of the complaint, including the possibility of a judicial remedy pursuant to Article 78 DSGVO.
